Get Ready to Save a Bundle on Appearance Counsel

Longmont, Colorado: ABC Legal (Seattle, Washington), a technology leader in court filing and service of process for law firms, government institutions, and corporate legal has acquired Local Counsel Collective, to form Docketly, the innovative leader in appearance counsel services for law firms. The partnership leverages ABC Legal's robust resources to propel Docketly's ability to expand and enhance service and value to its clients.

Brandon Fuller, CEO of Docketly stated, "We've enjoyed substantial annual growth over the last seven years, landing us on Inc. Magazine's list of fastest growing private companies and this deal will substantially speed up that growth ten-fold. From the moment ABC Legal approached us, we recognized their standards and commitment to high quality service matched our core values perfectly. It's an incredibly exciting time in our company's history for both our employees and clients." Steve Carrigan, CEO of ABC Legal stated, "Like Amazon, we are a Seattle company, and we are running their playbook. Think ABC Prime. Convenience, speed of delivery, lower bundled prices."

What does this mean for law firms?:

- Lower prices. Now you can bundle court filing, service of process and appearances counsel and save on all
- Comprehensive coverage. every court, every hearing, everywhere
- One vendor. One audit, one EDI, one team, one vision, one partner.
